Graham R. Gunn defends companies and people involved in premises liability, car accidents, and general liability matters, with a focus on minimizing the risk to the client while upholding their reputation. Clients value his communication skills, as well as his diligence in exploring options for resolution.

His path to becoming an attorney is based on his love of history and writing, as well as helping others. Practicing law allows him to help others with complex issues that oftentimes interact with each other. While in law school, he put that commitment into practice as a 711 intern with the St. Clair County Public Defender's Office, where he argued on behalf of clients at detention hearings. Today, he enjoys helping clients as they navigate complex legal issues and make well-informed decisions.

Outside of work, Graham is an avid hockey player and enjoys traveling and spending time with his family and friends.
