Sean P. Sheehan defends clients in high-value personal injury and wrongful death lawsuits related to asbestos exposure and other toxic torts. These cases can involve manufacturers, suppliers, distributors, contractors, premises owners, and employers.

Mr. Sheehan's clients rely on his knowledge, skills, and experience to:

- assist in drafting objections and responses to discovery requests
- prepare their corporate representatives for and defend them at depositions
- comply with the litigation rules of multiple jurisdictions

Clients also seek his advice to ensure they're in compliance with Medicare Secondary Payer reimbursement and reporting obligations, including those required by the:

- Medicare, Medicaid, and S-CHIP Extension Act (MMSEA) of 2007
- Strengthening Medicare and Repaying Taxpayers Act (SMART) of 2012
- Provide Accurate Information Directly Act (PAID) of 2020
- Civil Money Penalty regulations issued by the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services
